No one can deny that the most memorable moments and special bonds are made beyond the classroom. Student organizations provide fun, safe, and school related activities that are open to every student to participate in. There is an expansive variety of events offered, all of which keep students interested and involved. The majority of students at SCHS attend these events which enrich their lives and make their high school experience a memorable one.

[Going Wild]

Thriller

LEFT The '01 class float added a gory feel to the Homecoming parade, mimicking horror films. Many seniors contributed countless hours to build the first place finishing float.

Work It Out

ABOVE Cathy Gore sweats to the oldies in her sixth hour gym class. The stationary bike was only one of many pieces of new equipment present in the weight room this year.

WHERE WAS THE WEIRDEST PLACE YOU HAVE EVER SLEPT?

During gym class, Chenelle Simonetta squeezes into a locker for a rest instead of a workout.

Rich Malcolm disagreed with most students' opinions of the construction zones; he found them a quiet place for a snooze.

Queen Megan Poma naps while she reigns on her porcelain throne in the girls bathroom during afternoon classes.

The big, blue, bouncy ball was clearly a more appealing mattress to Jason Hoover than the new carpet of the computer room.

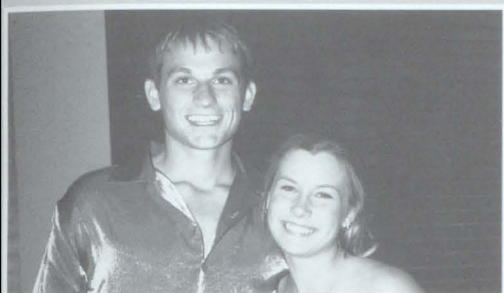

Instead of creating a pottery masterpiece, Brian Kronner displays his art of sleeping like a baby in Mrs. Gunderson's class.

No one is suspicious of Justin Goodell taking a safe and secure snooze on the warm hood of Officer Mahaffey's police car.

What was your greatest victory of the season?

"During the semifinals my partner and I had to play against Marysville. We played the best and really showed them how much we wanted it."

-Danielle Sayers '01

"The greatest victory as an individual was beating the #1 player from PHN five times this season, since she was a state finalist."

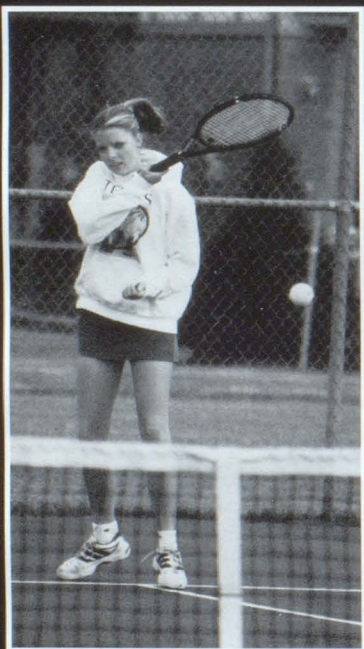

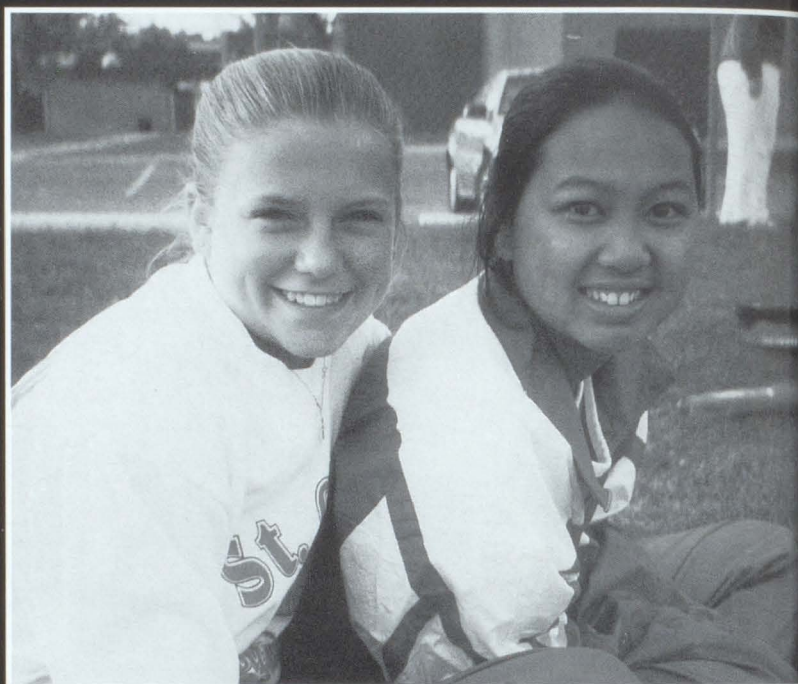

-Brooke Beier '04

"When I beat a girl from Port Huron because she was very immature and was smashing balls into me. I was happy to show her who was the better player."

-Allison Campbell '01

What was the hardest practice that you ran all season?

"The hardest practice can be described with only one word: Dunies."

-Matt Schwieger '01

"The hardest was either the long speedwork days at the beginning of the season or the first high, slow intervals."

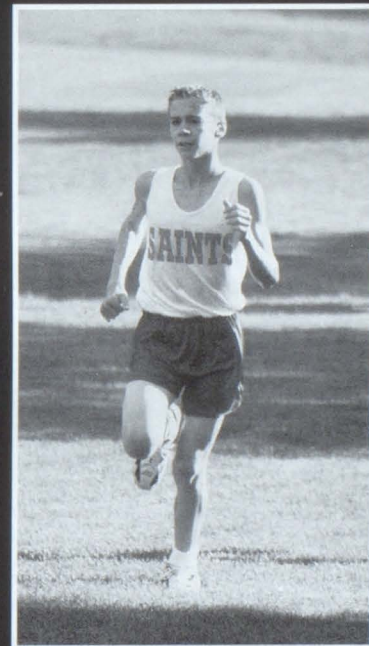

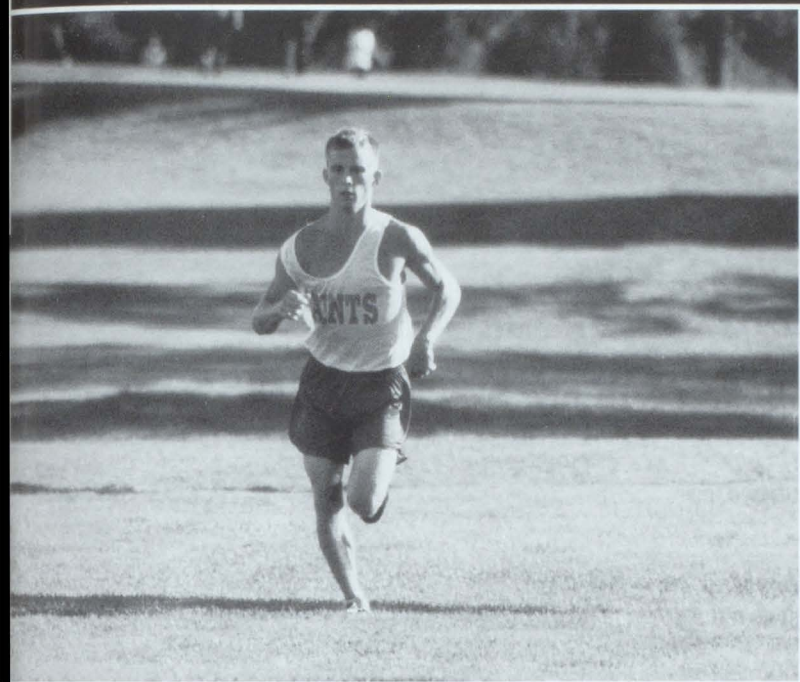

-Lars McElroy '03

"Our very first speedwork was the hardest practice of the year. It took a lot out of me. We all had to meet an incredible demand in order to finish. I pushed myself so hard my legs shook"

What major obstacles have you overcome during the season?

"We all had to deal with the difficulties of coaching during the season. The coach and the players had different views on a lot of topics which caused a lot of conflicts. We all pulled together at the end and played for ourselves and not for the coach. We all became closer because we had to work together and communicate more often."

-Lindsey Andrzejewski '01

"This year I got moved around to many different positions, like from setter to middle back to right back. It got really frustrating because the coach would move me around and it would mess up the whole rotation. Plus, it would take away playing time from other people. Finally, I talked to the coach and got to play just right back or setter for the rest of the season."

How do you mentally prepare for an event?

"I lay down, close my eyes, and visualize the next event. Sometimes I listen to music. Then I size up my opponents by watching them warm up."

-Lindsey Jones '04

"Before I start a race, I tell myself that I am running to improve my time, and to prove to myself that I can achieve anything."

-Jennifer Schonschack '03

"I usually don't think about anything to prepare myself before a race. I just run. The quicker I run, the sooner it's over, and that's my motivation."

-Samantha Hicks '02

"Before my event, I normally find myself thinking about form and picturing how I am going to throw. Sometimes I try to get myself really pumped up and mad about something to gain energy."

"It's not hard. Everyone on the team shows each other a lot of respect. We all cheer for each other."

-Brad Baden '02

"As a Freshman, I thought it would be really hard to get along with everyone, but they all just accepted me. It's a pretty close team"

-Will Ellis '04

"We all work at different levels, but we're still all working. We all push each other hard to achieve our own individual goals."

-Jesse Arnold '02

"It's not as divided as you would think. We all work hard, so we all stick together to win. That is the best way."

Clayton Distelrath

Clay,

We can't really measure the wonderful memories of your school years we will treasure.

From pre-school to high school.

You have dabbled in sports.

Found time to challenge and successfully win championships with your horse.

Taken a college course.

You always try your very best

You have a winning smile along with a lot of charm.

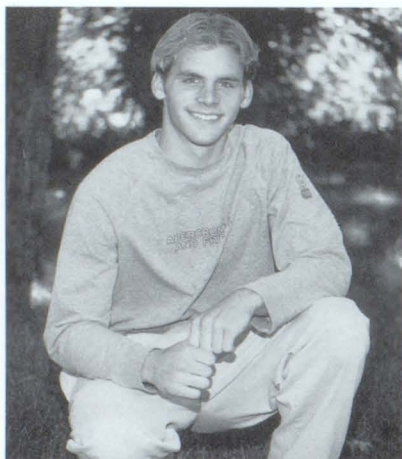

Even though it wasn't always to listen to your alarm

We wish for a bright future for you.

To oneself always be true.

We love you,

Dad, Mom, & Kristy

Specializing in Cosmetic Dentistry - creating beautiful smiles

The Value of a Smile

It costs nothing, but creates much.

It enriches those who recieve without impoverishing those who give.

It happens in a flash, and the memory of it sometimes lasts forever.

None are so rich they can get along without it, and none so poor but are richer for its benefit.

It creates happiness in the home, fosters goodwill in a business, and is the countersign of friends.

It is rest to the weary, daylight to the discouraged, sunshine to the sad, and nature's best antidote for trouble.

Yet it cannot be bought, begged, borrowed, or stolen, for it is something that is no earthly good to anyone until it is given away.

Congratulations to the Class of 2001!

Final Game

A large, black and white photograph capturing a moment of intense excitement at a pep assembly. The frame is filled with students of various ages, all displaying high energy. Many students have their arms raised, some with hands open in a cheering gesture, while others make the 'rock on' hand sign. Their faces are lit up with smiles and open-mouthed shouts. In the foreground, a student wearing a white t-shirt with the number '31' is prominently featured, looking directly at the camera with a wide-eyed, enthusiastic expression. To their right, another student with long, curly hair and sunglasses perched on their head is also cheering. The background is a dense sea of students, some wearing letterman-style shirts with 'ST. C' visible, and others in casual t-shirts. The overall atmosphere is one of collective joy and spirited support.
